

Thomas L. Siebert

THOMPSON COBURN LLP

Thomas Siebert's practice focuses on (1) international and domestic telecommunications and information technology business sectors and (2) international and domestic renewable energy and cleantech business sectors. He provides counseling on legislative and regulatory matters, government affairs, and federal marketing; transactional advice involving mergers and acquisitions; and has a deep understanding of the formation and financing of joint ventures and strategic alliances. Mr. Siebert has a wide range of experience, including owning, operating and managing various telecommunications businesses.

Distinction

Mr. Siebert was U.S. Ambassador to Sweden from 1994 to 1998. In 1998, he served as Chairman of the International Telecommunications Union (ITU) Plenipotentiary Conference where he was responsible for chairing the plenary session and the Conference Steering Committee, maintaining control of the meetings, and working closely with the ITU's Secretary General and staff. The ITU is the United Nations' specialized agency that is devoted to telecommunications matters and is the highest decision-making body made up of representatives of governments belonging to an international treaty-making organization.

Education

- Georgetown University Law Center
J.D. (1972)
- Georgetown University
B.A. (1968)

Primary Practice Areas

- Corporate & Securities
- Telecommunications

Licensure

- District of Columbia
- District of Columbia Bar Association
- Federal Communications Bar Association

Courts

- U.S. Supreme Court
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit