Nicole analyzes health care regulatory issues with an eye toward effective, proactive compliance for a broad range of health care clients. She counsels hospital systems, physician practices, laboratories, and health plans on regulatory matters, including HIPAA, the Stark Law, the Antikickback Law and various Medicare and Medicaid matters.

Nicole drafts employment agreements for physicians and non-physician practitioners and offers counsel on HIPAA policies and health care IT agreements. She also creates comprehensive provider agreements and downstream service agreements for health plans across the country, including managed care and specialty benefits companies. Nicole has been closely involved in several governmental investigations and Stark self-disclosures.

Nicole previously served as general counsel for a regional skilled nursing and assisted living facility operator. In that role, she led numerous health care transactions ranging from operation transfers to real estate and health-care receivable financings. She also secured licensing and certificates of need.
