Sonette is a highly experienced litigator and business advisor who counsels corporate clients on all phases of commercial litigation in state and federal courts throughout the United States.

She represents clients across a wide spectrum of industries during pre-suit evaluation, discovery, mediation, expert witness preparation, trial preparation and when advisable, trial. Sonette is skilled at creating and implementing litigation strategies that take into consideration all external factors that can influence a trial, such as geography, socio-economic realities, and jury composition.

Sonette began her legal career by serving for six years as the law clerk to the Chief Judge of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Missouri. She draws on that experience to effectively represent lenders in receiverships as well as Chapter 11 restructurings, liquidations in DIP Financing, and Plan negotiations.

In addition, Sonette represents clients in complex commercial disputes, providing solution-oriented and pragmatic advice to navigate their day-to-day business needs. Sonette counsels clients on efficiently resolving contract issues, branding and labeling issues, and devising IP protection and infringement aversion strategies. Sonette works closely with the business units and in-house legal teams to devise successful road maps to mitigate risk of litigation and to zealously represent her clients in both state and federal court.

Her experience includes representing restaurant chains, pet food and food product companies, department stores, home improvement stores, sports teams, and financial institutions. Sonette has also advised and served as outside counsel to institutions of higher education on a range of issues, including accreditation, governance, employment matters, financial restructuring, intellectual property strategies, and creation and enforcement of policies and procedures, including student and employee discipline.

Sonette also serves as Canada's Honorary Consul for the greater St. Louis area. In this role Sonette interacts with local businesses, chambers of commerce and government officials to identify opportunities for collaboration and trade between Canada and Missouri, particularly in the agriculture, biotech, energy and services sectors. Born in Toronto,
