Tyler leverages his extensive practical financial background to assist clients with a variety of corporate and securities matters and finance activities.

He assists a wide variety of institutional investors and pension plans on a range of securities offerings and transactions, including providing guidance about the legal features of various investment funds.

Tyler has nearly a decade of direct experience in the banking and financial services industries. He has worked for some of the region's largest brokerage firms in operational, compliance, and supervisory roles. He most recently worked to value various mortgage portfolios for one of the country's largest banks.

Tyler assists health care clients in mergers and acquisitions, including by drafting and negotiating transaction documents for acquisitions of physician groups of varying sizes.

Tyler is a CFA® charterholder and holds an M.S. in Economics and Finance from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.
