Higher Ed Litigation Roundtable (Spring 2025)

Webinar

The legal landscape of higher education is constantly evolving, with court decisions and regulatory shifts shaping institutional policies and operations. Keeping up with ongoing litigation and emerging legal trends is essential for colleges, universities, and their legal teams. Join us for this installment of our Higher Education Litigation Roundtable, where our litigators will discuss recent and ongoing cases that have significant implications for the higher education sector. This session will provide an in-depth analysis of key rulings, enforcement actions, and legal strategies, helping institutions navigate complex legal challenges and mitigate risks.

During this session, our litigators will also introduce the development of a new Higher Education Litigation Summary that provides analysis and updates on the status of litigation involving the Department of Education and reports on other notable cases affecting higher education institutions. Thompson Coburn will be regularly updating and posting the Summary on its website moving forward.
