TC Rewind 2014 - The Protection of IP When Working in the Federal Government & Commercial Markets

Webinar

The U.S. Government spends billions of dollars each and every year on acquiring supplies and services, including a wide array of technology solutions to satisfy its requirements. As a government contractor, you will want to protect your Company's "Crown Jewels," or valuable intellectual property, when working with the U.S. Government. Please join us for this webinar that will provide you with an understanding of critical issues from the perspective of prime and subcontractors in both the government contracting and commercial contests.
