I take a proactive approach to bankruptcy and financial restructuring law, ensuring clear solutions for clients.

overview

Aleksandra Abramova represents clients in a variety of industries in various aspects of bankruptcy and insolvency law. Her practice focuses on representing both secured and unsecured creditors, creditors' committees, lenders, and liquidating trustees in a range of restructuring and reorganization matters.

During law school, Alex served as a staffer on the Urban Law Journal. In her final semester of law school, she participated as a scholar in the Pro Bono Scholars Program at Fordham Law's Family Advocacy Clinic, where she represented special education students in New York City.
