EDUCATION

I provide essential support in challenging property valuations as a real estate tax assessment paralegal.

overview

Lindsay Stolte's role involves a comprehensive understanding of property tax laws and procedures. She meticulously analyzes property assessments, gathers supporting documentation, and prepares appeals for submission to relevant administrative bodies and courts.

Additionally, Lindsay conducts in-depth property research, maintains detailed case files, and coordinates with property owners and experts to build strong case foundations. Her goal is to achieve significant property tax reductions for clients through strategic analysis and effective advocacy.

in my free time

I am a world traveler. I have been to over 30 countries and love experiencing and learning about other cultures. I am an avid snowboarder and love being in the mountains. When I'm not traveling, I love hanging out with friends and listening to music.
