

I bring strong organizational skills to our team's work helping organizations and individuals as they navigate the U.S. immigration system.

overview

As a member of the firm's Immigration group, Marissa Kelly is a key player in helping to assist corporations, businesses, and individuals with their immigration-related needs.

In her role as a practice area specialist, Marissa drafts communications and prepares petitions related to immigration matters, among other administrative duties. Her detail-oriented experience and strong organizational and time-management skills contribute to the team's high level of client service.
