My goal is to make my clients' lives easier by taking on their challenges, guiding them through complex transactions, and resolving difficult problems.

overview

Advising funds, banks, and other lender and lessor financial services institutions on transactions, Vic Des Laurier centers his practice on syndicated and bilateral asset based lending and commercial loan transactions. He also brings extensive experience to loan workouts, restructurings, and voluntary and involuntary liquidations.

Vic's clients include many Chicago-based organizations, as well as entities across the country. He takes a practical yet creative approach and individualizes plans to complete deals as quickly and efficiently as possible. Clients rely on Vic's ability to adeptly protect their positions, resolve problems and keep them well-advised on market practices.

Drawing on his background as a prior certified public accountant, Vic fully understands financial statements, enabling him to provide informed advice from a business-savvy standpoint.

To optimize clients' time, Vic distills complex issues into the most relevant points and then suggests straightforward plans for moving forward. He works diligently to lift burdens from clients.

Vic leads Thompson Coburn's Chicago Banking and Commercial Finance practice and co-chairs the firm's national Banking and Commercial Finance Practice. He also serves as a member of the firm's Executive Committee and Management Committee.

in my free time

I enjoy playing tennis, running, and snow and water skiing. I follow sports and am a big fan of the Chicago teams – the Bears, Bulls, Blackhawks, and Cubs. In addition, my wife and I enjoy spending time with our three adult children, usually over great food and drink.
