Recent Work: Safeguarding Clients Through Effective Contracting

Terms and Conditions (T&Cs)

T&Cs are vital for any goods and service providers. Our review process includes ensuring no other terms and conditions apply to the business relationship, mitigating risks with clear disclaimers and confirming payment and invoice terms align with the operation's expectations. We also have deep experience structuring payment assurance provisions, including letters of credit and guarantees.

Master Service Agreements and Master Supply Agreements (MSAs)

MSAs are foundational for long-term business relationships. We ensure these agreements clearly define the scope of products, services and/or deliverables and protect your interests with well-drafted warranty, remedy, liability and indemnification clauses.

Technology Contracts

In the dynamic world of technology, having clear and precise contract terms are essential. We draft and negotiate Software Licensing Agreements to protect intellectual property rights and IT Service Contracts to confirm scope of work, deliverables, and confidentiality provisions. We also regularly provide advice on software as a service (or “SAAS”) agreements to a variety of clients and providers.

Vendor and Supplier Agreements

We ensure your vendor and supplier agreements clearly define the terms of supply and payment (including “take or pay” or minimum volume contracts), shipping requirements and delivery timelines while protecting your business with appropriate representations, warranties and indemnities.

Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDAs)

Protecting sensitive information is paramount. We review a host of confidential, NDAs and specialized work for hire arrangements to ensure comprehensive coverage of confidential information, define the duration, and scope of confidentiality obligations and include enforceable remedies for breaches.
